

The marvellous trip to the Auckland Museum

Author: Ruiha Bhana-DeThierry

Photographer: Ruiha Bhana-DeThierry

Wow! As soon as we got to the bus, we had to put our bags in the bottom compartment. We were all excited to go on our trip to the Auckland Museum.

While we were driving on the motor way, we were waving to people. Some people waved back then we went crazy. We also sang some songs and played funny jokes it was fun, then Whaea Jan told us to keep quiet.

When we finally got to the museum, we had our morning tea first. Afterwards I went with my group to see the sharks. I also saw an octopus packed in a jar and it looked yukky. There were also dead birds on display and it was sad to see that.

Then we went to the volcano room and watched a scary movie. It was of a volcano erupting. It was so frightening.

Then our whole group strolled to the Maori gallery where we saw Māori art and a kapahaka group perform. It was fantastic. Then this lady came and took a photo with us.

I had a great time at the museum. I learnt

and saw

so many things. It was interesting to see all the endangered New Zealand birds. I liked seeing the extinct moa. It was amazing.

